PROFILE

Frontend developer building fast, accessible, pixel-perfect web interfaces with React, Next.js and TypeScript.

I turn designs into production-ready interfaces that work on every device. My focus is on the details users feel but rarely name: fast first paint, accessible components, responsive layouts that hold up on a 390px screen, and clean code the next developer can read.

I've built product interfaces, dashboards and marketing sites end to end — from design handoff to production deploy. I care about the unglamorous polish: the empty state, the focus ring, and the layout that doesn't jump when the data finally loads.

EXPERIENCE

Frontend Intern

NOV 2025 – MAY 2026

Vidyaone IT Solution

- Built responsive user interfaces with React.js, HTML, CSS and Tailwind CSS across multiple client projects.
- Turned designs into reusable components and connected frontend to REST APIs for dynamic data rendering.
- Fixed UI bugs and worked closely with the team to finish tasks on time in an Agile workflow.

SELECTED WORK

Datelens

REACT · NEXT.JS · FASTAPI

- Full-stack data exploration app with a Next.js frontend and Python FastAPI backend.
- Built responsive UI components and integrated real-time data visualization features.

PixelForge

NODE.JS · TYPESCRIPT · REACT

- Image conversion web app handling upload, processing and download with a clean React interface.
- TypeScript service with drag-and-drop UI and real-time conversion feedback.

HOW I WORK

- Design to production. I build interfaces that match the design and work on every device, from handoff to deploy.
- Accessible by default. Semantic HTML, keyboard navigation, and ARIA when needed — not an afterthought.
- Code for the next dev. Clean components, clear naming, and consistent patterns so the codebase stays maintainable.
